health." James French, Atchison, Kansas, writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recom-years, when a friend advised me to take general purifier of the blood, it has no writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Serruola might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

DESTRUCTIVE FLAMES.

CINCINNATI VISITED BY A DISAS- TROUS CONFLAGRATION.

Several Firemen Injured, and Nearly a Million Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed in the Queen City of the West.
The Loss and Insurance-Notes.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22.—The most disastrous conflagration which has visited Cincinnati for a long time, entailing a loss of nearly $1,000,000, broke out in the large clothing establishments of Mack, Stadler & Co. and M. & L. S. Feichheimer, at 107 and 109 West Third street, at 2:30 a. m., Saturday morning. The two buildings were entirely gutted, while the clothing house of M. H. Marks & Co., adjoining on the west, was damaged heavily by water.

The department responded quickly, but it was five minutes before the fire was checked. The flames were so intense that the fourth floor was one mass of flames, which forcibly approached near enough to work effectively.

The scene was magnificent, as the flames shot from the roof and windows into the air, lighting up the entire east end of the city, and carrying with them the fagots and red bricks of the corrie. The heat clipped off the freestone front in great chunks, which showed down on the brave firemen below, many of whom were badly cut, but proceeded with their work after stopping only long enough to brush away the blood with their sleeves.

At 4 a. m. the upper floors in both buildings had fallen and lay piled in heaps on the trembling joists of the third floors. The men were perched on the beams, and were in a perpetual fear of falling into the huge pile of charred timbers, already burning into flames again, plunged into the midst of them with their lives, and there on the burning floor, which was quaking beneath their feet, worked heroically to keep in subjection the small portion of the flames that had not subsidized. Several times they were appealed to to withdraw, but they heard nothing but the flames which roared about them as they exerted every effort to keep them at bay.

Suddenly the floor on which the men stood began to sink, and before the brave men realized their danger it gave way and they fell. A cry of horror went up from the crowd as the timbers crashed down on to the first floor, which gave way and precipitated them all into the basement of Mack, Stadler & Co.'s building, beneath the mass of burning timbers they had so earnestly sought to extinguish. The work was passed from mouth to mouth that four firemen had been killed, and in the excitement of the moment everything else was forgotten. Cries for help coming from the burning mass, the men to the scene, and they set bravely to work to rescue their comrades.

The first man taken out was Peter Kuhl, of Engine No. 4, who was found to be badly though not dangerously bruised. Captain Halstead, the veteran of Engine No. 1, was, after considerable effort, dragged out from under the mass of burning timbers. He was injured by a falling beam. It was found that his skull was not fractured. Another man, who was badly injured, was dragged out after several timbers had been removed.
One man was missing, Captain Higginson, of Engine Company No. 4. He was outside of the engine in the fourth floor beam which rested across his breast. How to remove it at first puzzled those engaged in the rescue. After a while it was decided because of the limited space.

Finally one of the men hastened to a hardware store on the next block, burst open the door and secured two axes. For nearly an hour they labored in rescuing Higginson.
Joists had to be braced and others saved, until finally the terrible weight was removed from the brave man's chest. He lay there bearing his pain manfully, however, having sustained death in the face several times before he was finally carried out on a stretcher, and laid on a cot of his own home.

The walls of the buildings are standing, but are covered in a thick coating of soot.
The engineer and clerks at Mack, Stadler & Co. say it must have originated from an old stove in the third room in the rear of the fifth floor, and burned down into the fourth floor before being discovered, as there was no other stove or fire used in the building. Outside of the engine in the fourth floor cutting room on the sixth floor. The first two floors are heated by steam. The thin wooden partition between the two establishments was the cause of the fire. The fire of Feichheimer's. Indeed, considering the nature of the conflagration, it is miraculous that even other buildings were not destroyed.

The clothing establishments were all heavily stocked with the spring and summer goods for the coming season.

The losses are as follows: Mack, Stadler & Co., on stock and fixtures, $935,000; building, which belonged to H. H. May and Herman Mack, of the firm, $45,000; total, $980,000.
Marcus & L. S. Feichheimer, stock and fixtures, $225,000; building, which belonged to the Marcus & L. S. Feichheimer estate, and Herman Leck & Co. and M. H. Marks & Co., on each side of the conflagration, damage by water $10,000 each. Bettman Brothers, stock of Mack, Stadler & Co., on Pearl street, $3,000. All are clothes. Total loss, $953,000.

The insurance on Mack, Stadler & Co.'s stock is $925,000; on building $45,000. M. & L. S. Feichheimer have $225,000 on stock and $15,000 on building. Mr. Abe Mayer has the policy of the insurance on Mack, Stadler & Co. Nearly all the companies in the city are in for amounts varying from $5,000 to $100,000.

A few hours after Capt. M. J. Higginson, of the Poles, was resting easy at his residence, 125 East Seventh street. Dr. Bramble does not think his injuries will prove fatal.
His breast was badly hurt by falling timbers and his head and side cut and bruised.

Capt. J. H. May, of the Poles, was also badly hurt by the fall, the two floors above crushing in and carrying him through to the cellar. He is an old man and the shock was very great, but he will recover if his injuries are not greater than so far made known.

Freeman George Bushkamp and Peter Kuhn, of the Poles, were not seriously injured, but narrowly escaped. The latter was killed by a falling beam. The Poles, had Pigman George Clark, of the Nines, had his face and neck badly scorched while standing on a high ladder holding the hose in the very thick of the flames.

Masonic Relief.

St. Louis, Nov. 22.—The Masonic Relief association, of the United States and Canada, held its first annual meeting here today. The various committees were presented.
The most important of these adopted was that which recommended the formation of a uniform system for the dispensation of charity.
The system requires the same observance of the same conditions before help shall be given, thus making the reports of dispensations uniform.

TO INVESTIGATE THE STRIKE.

An Intimation That Crooked Work Was Done at the Chicago stockyards.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—It was reported yesterday and the report seemed well based, that a secret committee would be sent here by General Master Workman Powderly to investigate the cause of the late strike at the stockyards. The report also went on to say that this action was taken at the earnest request of many Knights of Labor, who have been very active in the strike, and had been called out after having been ordered back by Committee Man Barry.

To the order generally the cause of the second strike has been ascribed to the mystery as to the general public, and the belief that it was a political move on the part of the stockyard men. The report also went on to say that the strike was taken at the earnest request of many Knights of Labor, who have been very active in the strike, and had been called out after having been ordered back by Committee Man Barry.

Low Appraisal of Quarantined Cattle.

the first appraisal of quarantined cattle, and the result is a heavy disappointment to owners. They were expecting to get at least $25.00 per head.

REPUBLIC OF HONDURAS.

A SCHEME TO ANNEX IT TO THE UNITED STATES.

Two Classes of Men Working for This Common End—President Bogran's Views—A Big Stake of Land, and Millions of Bonds—A Rich Price of Wealth.

TRUENEGGA, Nov. 22.—For years the Republic of Honduras has been the Etorio toward which the greedy eyes of money grasping men have been turned. One concession after another has been wrung from her by capitalists, and the latest scheme contemplated taking the last acre of land from the native. It is publicly boasted by a New York clique that are long Honduras will appear to the United States for annexation.
Two classes of men are working for this common end, one by filibustering conquests and the other by legitimate means, aided by diplomacy. The latter class has met with some encouragement from the government at Washington through the state and interior departments.

Honduras comprises 36,000 square miles of the richest area known on the globe. It is acknowledged by geologists to be the gold and silver pocket of the continent, and for four centuries its yield of these products by certain methods has surprised the world. It supplies nearly all the gold and the best of the machine used everywhere. Its fruits and nuts form a valuable article of commerce. Its shipping interest. Its upland climate is a state of perpetual equilibrium, unsurpassed in healthfulness. For years those who have been engaged in Honduras have been been quietly working to get concessions and grants of land. Having secured these they have been able to develop the land, commercial and to get away from the hands of the people. They propose to demand annexation as a protection from revolution and to insure their products from the hands of the United States. The government in which these schemes has a deeper interest than will be made transparent further on.

Ex-President Soto, who is in Costa Rica, has just failed in his last filibustering expedition. When acting as president of the republic he was elected for two years, and then, as he is, as is alleged, to New York, where he has now a fortune of $100,000.
His views on the subject of Honduras are consequently in the city of New York. His motive of filibustering is not to be re-elected president of the republic, but to drive it to anarchy, seize it and place it in the protection of the United States. He is a man of great energy and is a man of great energy.

It was a false move. He (Soto) proceeded to Costa Rica and sent his forces unexpectedly to Honduras, where they were promptly defeated and he fled to New York. He is the history of the last two months. He had desired really to become president he had been elected for two years, and he had been elected for two years, and he had been elected for two years, and he had been elected

ROSSER & MCCARTHY, Proprietors.

MONDAY EVE., NOVEMBER 22, 1886.

Cheap gas and cheap insurance.

This insurance agents don't seem to hanker after a discussion of the question of rates.

The grand jury of Magoffin County returned 161 indictments at a recent session of court, 51 of which were for bribery in elections.

The grand jury of Fleming County has returned twenty indictments at the present term of the Circuit Court, and is still in session.

The County Judge of Bourbon County fined thirty-seven men $7.50 each, the other day, for refusing to work an old public road.

A SHIPMENT of over three hundred fat cattle was made last week from Lexington to Liverpool, Eng., by way of the C. and O. railroad.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet at Frankfort on the 23rd of this month to fix the time and place for holding the next State convention.

Is the cost of insurance now less than it was before the completion of the waterworks? Let us hear from some one on the subject, but don't all speak at once.

This property-holders ought to get insurance a good deal cheaper now than they did before the completion of the waterworks. If they do not, whose fault is it?

A FIRE doesn't stand any show at all when it comes in contact with a stream of water from the Mayville waterworks. Hence, insurance ought to be pretty cheap in this city.

MAJOR AMES, the recent Democratic candidate for Governor of Minnesota, will contest the election of his opponent, McGill, on the ground of gross irregularities. McGill's plurality was only 2,500.

HON. JOHN D. HARRIS, of Madison County, is a Democratic candidate for Governor, provided the State Central Committee will give him time to see the people before the convention comes off.

THERE are six candidates for the Cynthia postoffice already in the field, and the number, it is said, will be increased to a dozen or more in a few days. The commission of the present incumbent will expire on the 20th of next month.

D. S. FOTHERINGHAM, the messenger, who, "Jim Cummings" says, is innocent of the big express robbery, has been indicted for the off-ense. When arraigned the other day, at St. Louis, he pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to jail. Cummings should go to his relief at once.

HON. M. H. HOUSTON, County Judge of Boyd County, has announced himself as a Democratic candidate for Register of the Land Office. At the last August election, he was chosen Judge by a majority of 110, although his county is Republican.

THE administrator of the Botta's estate of Fleming County, has announced himself $7,000 for his services. He asked $15,000. His attorneys in the case, Andrews & Sadduth, were allowed $10,000. These are big fees, and their like is not picked up in country towns every day, by any means.

MR. HAWTHORNE Hill, one of Kentucky's brightest journalists, has resigned as managing editor of the Louisville Commercial, and will either accept a position on the Courier-Journalist, or return to thievery, which was his former home. Dan E. O'Sullivan will hereafter be editor-in-chief of the Commercial, so reports say.

GENERAL JOHN W. FINNELL, a prominent attorney of Covington, has assigned for the benefit of his creditors. His liabilities amount to $18,000, and his assets will hardly reach that sum. It's not very often that one hears of a lawyer failing. Mr. Finnell will remove to Denver, Colorado, as soon as his affairs are settled.

THE result of the late election is the only instance in which a Democratic administration has, since Van Buren's time, obtained a majority of the House in its second Congress. Polk lost the House in 1845. Pierce lost it in 1854. Buchanan lost it in 1858. The opposition has not fared much better. Tyler lost it in 1842, Fillmore in 1845, Grant in 1874, Hayes in 1878 and Arthur 1882.

Lincoln carried the House his second year, but the South was not represented in that Congress, and in the election of 1862, Lincoln suffered more severely than the present administration has at the late election. Grant held the House in 1870, but lost it by a decided majority in 1874—Exchange.

A Battle on the Tariff.

In the present House of Representatives there are but four Democrats, we believe, from the New England States. In the next there will be eight, the Democrats having gained four at the recent election. With one or two exceptions these eight Representatives were all elected, we understand, upon a "tariff reform" platform. In the Second Rhode Island district, the Democratic candidate, Judge Bradley, gained a phenomenal victory after a hot canvass "based wholly upon civil service and revenue reform."

The campaign in Massachusetts, the Boston Herald, an independent journal, remarks: "The contest which took place in this State, whatever it may have been elsewhere, was a battle on the tariff. For the first time within this generation the lines were drawn and the issue made on this subject. If the Democracy had shown the boldness two and four years ago that it has exhibited in the last six weeks, it would have swept over Massachusetts like a whirlwind. But the victory gained, although not complete, is too significant to be mistaken. Those Republicans who are returned, with one exception, go back with reduced majorities—a warning of future defeat if they persist in the course they have thus far followed. Those Democrats who have been elected have been chosen upon a solid tariff reform basis, and with one exception, distinctly owe their election to their tariff reform professions. The result is one which will not be overlooked either here or in Washington. If, by the advocacy of tariff reform, a political party which for forty years has been helplessly in the minority can make tremendous gains in a State supposed to be irrevocably given over to the delusions of protection, it needs no prophet to foretell that the days of protection are numbered; for, as it no longer has popular support, it only requires vigorous action on the part of its opponents to bring about its speedy overthrow."

Criminal Prosecutions.

Below we give the cost of criminal prosecutions in the various judicial districts for the past year. As will be seen there is but one district in the State where the prosecutions cost less than they did in this, the Fourteenth. "Honor to whom honor is due." We believe the light expense to which the State was put for criminal prosecutions in this district is due largely to the prompt action of our efficient Circuit Judge. Here are the figures:

Pithy Points From Washington.

We hear that the colored churches of Paris are going to turn out all their members who voted in favor of liquor at the recent election.

The only thing significant about such action is the fact that our colored brethren are putting their white brethren to blush, if the report is true, for white churches never do such a thing.

It looks like our churches were afraid of moving in the matter of getting clear of such church members as deliberately offend against their government, in the matter of selling whisky. That the whisky business, in any of its branches is not compatible with church membership, to say nothing of Christianity, we don't think any man will dispute, but yet in almost all churches can be found men who are engaged in the traffic.

It is a crying evil that the church retains within her pale men who handle the accursed stuff, and the more so because the idea has an idea that she does so for the money they are able to pay into the treasury. In view of such things, it is a matter of small wonder that the church is looked upon with so little favor, and given such a wide berth by so many.

If the money thus received at the hands of whisky men could be traced to its source, it would be found to have been wrung from famishing, starving women; from wretched and ruined houses; and to represent the price of blasted lives, blackened characters, and last, but not least, the price of blood.

Now, if the church would retain her high position, she must see to it that no man who lends his time and talents to the business, which is dead ruin to his fellow, shall be permitted to shield himself and his crime business within her fold. She must look to it that no money, the price of which is blood and dishonor, finds its way to the treasury of the Lord.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay County, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." GENERAL HAZEN'S REPORT

THE VALUE OF THE WEATHER INDICATION AND STORM WARNING.

He Recommends the Establishment of Signal Stations in the West Indies—Flag Signals—General Miles Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Gen. Hazen, chief signal officer, in his annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1898, says the weather indications and storm warnings of the bureau would become more valuable if regular stations were established in the West Indies and the symbols of signals increased in the west and in British America. Reports received from the sea coast telegraph lines, in some cases, are of special value in the issuing of storm warnings and securing aid for stranded vessels. Valuable cargoes have been saved and lives rescued by prompt information communicated over line by the signal service observers, and it should not only be maintained, but extended along more dangerous portions of the coast.

During the year the percentage of error in report of weather indications was 22.7 per cent. Highly satisfactory progress is reported in the system of cold wave warnings. The system of flags to indicate the probable conditions of weather and temperature recently adopted by this service, has been universally commended by the public and the region over which they are displayed has greatly increased during the year and the area for want of funds, has not been able to supply the demand.

These flags are extensively displayed on lines of railroads and at railroad stations, and communicate by signal the weather forecasts of this service to many who are not within reach of the daily mail, and to those who are not supplied with the printed indications. Gen. Hazen commends the establishment of additional cautionary signal stations on the lakes to meet the demands of those interested in lake navigation, and to make this feature of the service complete. The cotton region reports are becoming more valuable each year, and there is an increasing demand for the information furnished. These observations Gen. Hazen thinks should be made continuous throughout the year. Of the service generally he says: "It is growing, the demand is increasing, and much more work could be done in the distribution of weather forecasts, storm, frost and hail warnings if the appropriations for these branches of the service were increased."

Gen. Miles Interviewed.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Brig. Gen. Miles, commanding the department of Arizona, has arrived here. In an interview with the press he said: "I feel that Geronimo and his followers are finally disposed of and they appear to be perfectly satisfied that they have been properly treated. The surrender was an absolute surrender."

"Which," suggested the interviewer, "is the same thing as a capture?"
"It is regarded by military law," replied the general adding, "the only object that is a band of warriors could have in surrendering absolutely and throwing themselves in mercy of their captors, is the hope that for doing so their lives may be spared. But, of course, I could not grant them a pardon. That lay with the president. It was for him to do with them as he thought right. Now they have all been finished from their homes, everything has been taken from them, and they have been removed to a place hundreds of miles away, where they will be so nearly the ability of another outbreak in the future."

The general is here on a furlough—not an official business, and will return to his post after spending a few weeks with his family.

Permanent Expedition Board.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The success of the meeting of the board of promotion of a permanent expedition, to be held here on December 7 next, is now practically assured. Encouraging responses are coming in from all over the country. The following gentlemen have written Secretary General Hazen their intention to be present: Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia; Congressman Wallace, of Louisiana; Mayor Smith, of Philadelphia; Governor and Mrs. de Virginia; Henry McShane, of Baltimore, delegates of the National League, Philadelphia; the secretary of the board of agriculture of Tennessee; the president of the Detroit Merchants' and Manufacturers' exchange; the secretary of the Oil City (Pa.) board of trade; the president of the Cleveland, O.; Detroit, Mich.; New Haven, Conn., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Report of the Naval Bureau.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The annual report of the naval bureau of ordinance was made public today. The bureau estimates for next year aggregate $2,741,494. During the year a considerable number of six-inch high power steel guns have been tested and tested with very satisfactory results. It has been demonstrated that cast iron is not a suitable metal for projectiles for the high power guns, and efforts are being made to substitute steel. The ordnance work for the new cruisers is in an advanced and satisfactory state, and designs and preliminary plans have been arranged for arming the additional vessels, for which appropriation was made last year.

Congressman John Arnot Dead.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—News of the death of John H. Arnot, of the Twenty-eighth congressional district, New York, embracing Chemung, Schuyler, Seneca and Tompkins counties, has reached here. Mr. Arnot has been ill for several months past, and the announcement of his death was consequently not much of a surprise to his many friends at the national capital. The congressman's home, where he died, was at Elmira, N. Y.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 22.—The cattle plague among the herds on the Blue river, forty miles southwest of here, still continues. Up to this time twenty-one head have fallen from the mysterious disease. It is supposed to be rabies. About two months ago a mad dog was seen to enter two pastures and kill a number of cattle in these ranches. Dr. Billings, of the veterinary school of the Nebraska university, returned yesterday from the Blue River country, where he has been for the past week investigating the trouble among the herds. He said that it was singular that fifteen cattle died within a period of forty-eight days after the attack. All that died showed the same symptoms, exactly corresponding to those given by veterinarians authors, as those of rabies in cattle, except that the animals did not bite or gnaw the spot of the wound.
